The Podcast Everyone Is Talking About to Appear Live at the Prestigious “Just for Laughs Comedy Festival” in Montreal on July 27

Watch What Crappens with Ben Mandelker and Ronnie Karam - one of the most popular podcasts of the year – gearing up to share their hilarious commentary on reality TV

New York, New York – July 19, 2018... The new bad boys of comedy – podcasters Ben Mandelker and Ronnie Karam of the hit podcast Watch What Crappens – will be sharing their wicked commentary on all things Reality TV at the esteemed Just For Laughs Festival in Montreal alongside heavy hitters like Kevin Hart, Trevor Noah, and Tiffany Haddish. The Crappens duo performs live on July 27th at 5pm.

For the past year, Watch What Crappens hosts Ben and Ronnie have taken their podcast on tour and their cult following is growing by the minute. Fans (including some Bravo-lebrities themselves) show up at theaters in Crappens’ caftans – many travelling thousands of miles. The shrieking starts from the moment the two podcasters take the stage to their final bows. (That’s two hours worth of high frequency modulation and two days of sore throats.) It’s clear the Crappens duo have dedicated fans, which now number close to two million. “Our fans are amazing – really devoted,” Mandelker says.

The trend for live podcasts has taken off. “It’s crazy,” says Mandelker. “We started out as two guys who talked to you through your ear buds or in the car while you were driving to give you a laugh. Now we’re treated like rock stars wherever we go.” Not bad as gigs go. In addition to their live tours, listeners can tune in to five podcasts a week covering a variety of shows; there is something for everyone.

Watch What Crappens delves into the delicious drama of Bravo-lebrities, giving you colorful takes – er, make that lampoons - on the weekly happenings on Bravo TV. This funny and brash podcast has racked up nominations for “Best Podcast” by LA Weekly and earned praise from Mental Floss, which called it “laugh-out-loud” in its list of “19 TV Podcasts You Need To Hear.” Crappens is usually found in the Top Ten iTunes podcasts in the TV/Film genre, and the Top 100 overall, with their most recent chart position at #73.

Montreal, here they come! “We are honored to be a part of Just For Laughs, one of the most famous comedy festivals in the world,” says Ronnie Karam. “Can’t wait to see where this will lead to next!”

Upcoming Watch What Crappens Live tour dates are as follows:

7/27 – Montreal, Canada – Just for Laughs Comedy Festival

8/23 – Palm Beach, Florida – Palm Beach Improv

8/25 – Atlanta, Georgia (2 shows) – City Winery

9/13 – Denver, Colorado – Denver Improv

10/11 & 10/12 – New York City, New York – Gramercy Theatre

For information on tickets, visit Watch What Crappens. The list of new live shows is updated regularly.

About Watch What Crappens

Watch What Crappens started as a lark sometime in 2012 by Mandelker and Karam. The two friends just happened to like talking about shows they watched the night before. As huge Bravo fans, their commentary is as much a love fest as a lampoon.

Bustle called Watch What Crappens “dependably fantastic;” The Huffington

Post declared Crappens the “go to podcast for all things Bravo;” and Buzzfeed ranked the show on its list of “22 Fantastic Podcasts To Make Your Commute Less Shitty.”

Watch What Crappens is available on iTunes, Google Play, Soundcloud, iHeartRadio, Stitcher, and anywhere else where podcasts are found.
